

II. READING PASSAGES

3. Read the following passage and then answer the questions.

American children really look forward to the last day of October every year. October 31st is called Halloween. People decorate their house with spooky things like spider webs and broomstick witches, they hang out jack-o'-lanterns and in the evening they wait for the brave kids to frighten away the bad spirits from their home. Children put on wild costumes, paint their faces and visit the houses in the neighbourhood to scare the ghosts. "Trick or treat?", the children ask the owner of the house. If they get some treats like chocolate, candy bars or sweets they frighten away the bad spirits, otherwise they play tricks on the people in the house. Children carry a big bag for "trick-or-treat candies". Groups of friends, sisters and brothers walk from home to home in the street. They make funny noise and sometimes they surprise each other, too.
